Originally written in Marathi, ' Ayurveda Garbha Sanskar ' is a book that serves as a guide to a couple who are looking to start a family, starting out by getting pregnant, giving birth to a healthy child and nurturing the little one. The book comprehensively provides people everything that a person wants to know about conceiving, pregnancy and delivery to nurturing the little one for up to 2 years of age. Not simply a book laden with known-lectures, rather this book can be seen as an elaboration of various ancient Ayurvedic practices that leads to the complete well-being of the mother and child ' s physical, spiritual and psychological health. It also advises on the traditional herb mixes, yoga, music and mantras that the new-mothers or the mothers-to-be may find helpful. Besides, this book also charts a nutritious Ayurvedic diet-plan for the couples to detoxify their bodies and be healthy in the right sense of the term. Once a mother conceives, she must be able to nourish and condition the little one in her womb. Likewise, this book also provides a month-by-month nutrition plan that helps in proper nourishment of the baby. Yoga and full-body herbal oil massages during pregnancy are also recommended for the mothers-to-be along with a list of health tonics prescribed in this book. In order to reach out to more people worldwide, this book has been translated in English, and is available in hardcover.

The first Dalit autobiography to be published, Baluta caused a sensation when it first appeared, in Marathi, in 1978. It quickly acquired the status of a classic of modern Indian literature and was also a bestseller in Hindi and other major languages. This is the first time that it has been translated into English. Set in Mumbai and rural Maharashtra of the 1940s and '50s, it describes in shocking detail the practice of untouchability and caste violence. But it also speaks of the pride and courage of the Dalit community that often fought back for dignity. Most unusually, Baluta is also a frank account of the author's own failings and contradictions-his passions, prejudices and betrayals-as also those of some leading lights of the Dalit movement. In addition, it is a rare record of life in Maharashtra's villages and in the slums, chawls and gambling dens of Mumbai.

About the book: This is the story of a journey of Siddharth and his parents as they fought through Siddharth's multiple life endangering and debilitating hardships since his birth. The journey was not exactly a pleasant one. The fight was on many battlefronts- medical, educational, physical, psychological, social, personal and it was a see-saw of hope and despair, joy and grief, euphoria and gloom. Jigsaw puzzles, introduced to Siddharth as a therapy, became a passion in which he excelled and that gave him a distinct identity. For Siddharth's parents, jigsaw puzzles became a metaphor for life and the journey a tutor on the purport of life. This book is a frank and personal conversation where Siddharth's parents take you through this journey, share their good and bad experiences, things that they learnt, knowingly or unknowingly, and what they could and could not achieve. It is a note of hope and positivity against the vicissitudes and frailties of existence. "I make no pretense of saying that what I did or said is right or is the gospel truth nor do I want to prescribe any course of action to you. Certainly, I wish to neither capitalize nor garner sympathies for what we went through. But if this story inspires someone, keeps their hopes alive or, wittingly or unwittingly, helps you relate to the jigsaw puzzle in your life, helps you fit its piece or two then I would consider this worth the effort. Each one of you are anyway solving your own puzzle in your own way." About the Author: Smita Bapat-Joshi's first Marathi book, Sidharth, whose free translation this book is, was published in May 2019 by renowned Rajhans Publications. It was received well. This prompted Bhushan, her husband & Siddharth's father, to pen this English version of the same. Smita is an M. Sc. of University of Mumbai (Bombay) while Bhushan is IITB and IIMB alumnus. Siddharth, Smita and Bhushan reside in Pune.
