A communications specialist discusses communication in the local church--advertising, talking with the media, communicating with members, and utilizing technology. Includes helpful forms, checklists, and examples from cutting-edge churches.

For over a quarter of a century the problem of losing church members has progressively increased. Today the situation is so bad that less than one-third of the members in some churches attend worship services. Church leaders are crying for help. In an effort to help church leaders, the Billy Graham School of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary conducted a massive research project involving nearly 287 churches. The most revealing aspect of the study was that the higher expectations placed on members, the greater the likelihood that the members would stay and be involved with the church. Using the data gathered from this project, Thom Rainer presents the first-ever comprehensive study about 'closing the back door.' Rainer looks at why people are leaving the church and how church leaders can keep the members.

questions. How much staff does the church need? How many workers are needed in the nursery this month? When is the right time to start a second worship service? How many people should we train for evangelism this year? How does seating and parking impact worship attendance? When church leaders have questions about planning, running, or growing their churches, they need answers fast! What Every Pastor Should Know offers pastors and leaders 101 valuable rules and "sacred" laws to help answer real-life ministry questions. From advertising to facilities to visitation, this valuable book offers the practical help that leaders need, just when they need it most. This comprehensive guide will become one of the most valuable books in a leader's library. Never again will they wonder if they based critical decisions on the right information. They'll get the answers they're looking for all in one place.

How do people experience your church for the first time? You're about to find out. 52 Churches is the story of Peter DeHaan's journey visiting fifty-two churches in a year and what he learned about God, faith, and how a visitor experiences church for the first time. Each church in his travels shows us a different way of encountering God and understanding our common faith. DeHaan's methodical approach is both an enlightening experiment and an insightful perspective on what it's like to step through the doors of an unfamiliar church. 52 Churches doesn't rip at today's church. It's not a church-shopping romp or a mean-spirited journalistic exposé. Instead, it's a gift that offers encouragement, hope, and support to the Christian Church, along with some helpful suggestions. 52 Churches will broaden your understanding of the church by discovering:

- How to welcome visitors well and encourage them to return
- What draws people in and what drives them away
- Tips to maximize each of your service's three greeting opportunities
- Ideas to improve your congregation's outreach and outlook
- Inspiration to move from friend-focused interactions to a visitor-first perspective

52 Churches will inspire church leaders and members to rethink how visitors experience their church and to reach out to local communities more effectively. By journeying through 52 churches, you'll gain a better understanding of the challenges facing today's congregations, while appreciating the diversity of the local church. 52 Churches is ideal for leaders, members, and anyone who is ready to reimagine your church in a fresh way. Get your copy of 52 Churches today and let your adventure begin!

It is a tragic reality that most in the Western church have become more fixated on what transpires within the four walls of the church than on reaching the lost in their communities. And because of this inwardness, dire consequences have resulted with the neglect of the divine commission. According to a 2019 report, 9,000 churches in Canada are estimated to "be lost in the next decade", that equals "roughly a third of all faith-owned buildings in the country." This is nothing more than the eventual and inevitable result of churches forgetting themselves. How so? A church without evangelism is not a church, just as a church without discipleship and worship is not a church, all three manifold aspects, firmly established upon God's word, comprise the church's mission. Without these, what you have then is nothing more than a social gathering. The church is more than that, however, it is a rescue station, not a measly tea party, and how many have been more so the latter? In this collection of sermons by the "Prince of Preachers", Charles H. Spurgeon, you will find inspiration, instruction, and words of great edification for our divine task, to go out into this lost and hostile world to sow the seed of the gospel, the only gospel that has the power to transform and redeem.

Visit fifty-two churches in a year? No way! Peter DeHaan and his wife did just that. They spent a year visiting a different Christian church every Sunday: Protestant mainline, evangelical, and charismatic; Roman Catholic too. He visited a congregation just like yours. Count on it. You'll laugh. You'll cringe. You'll cry. Church-reform proponent and Bible scholar, Peter DeHaan, PhD is a strong advocate of forming meaningful Christian community. And he shares his discerning journey of discovery to inspire ministers, members, and attendees to build personal connections that matter. This isn't a church-shopping romp or a mean-spirited critique. Peter doesn't rip at today's church. Instead
