riding a goldbug coach pulled by horseflies--and familiar end-of-day activities like dinner and bedtime where "only glowworms and the lightning bugs light up the darkness with their small lights." Ipcar's flamboyant, four-color illustrations make for an amusing and quirky book in which children can also learn to identify many different kinds of insects. Ipcar was a well-known artist of the WPA-era and also illustrated a number of other children's books. Ipcar's works are now in the permanent collections of museums such as the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Whitney Museum of American Art, and the Brooklyn Museum in New York. She is also represented in the leading art museums of Maine, as well as in many corporate and private collections throughout the country.

Take a journey to the bottom of the sea with the gentle merman farmer who tends fanciful fields of sea cucumbers and sea beans with the help of his two sea horses. He must defend his cowfish and sea hens from fierce sea lions and tiger sharks, and free any sea creatures caught in traps or nets dropped from above. Legendary artist Dahlov Ipcar brings this enchanting undersea world to life with her vibrant illustrations and clever transformation of a traditional farmer's tasks to a deep sea setting.

"Features illustrations that originally appeared in the following books: Hardscrabble harvest, One horse farm, The cat at night, Black and white, Bright barnyard, Brown cow farm, The land of flowers, Lobsterman, Wild and tame, I like animals, and The wild whirlwind"--T.p. verso.

Margaret Wise Brown's The Little Fisherman, the delightful story of a big fisherman and a little fisherman working at sea, is now condensed into a Board Book format.

Big Betty is the one horse on the farm, and she works hard all year long at the different jobs which need doing on a farm, until the day a tractor takes over.

Wild animals including the flamingo, panther, and kangaroo introduce each letter of the alphabet. On board pages.

Larry, who lives in a Maine fishing village, helps his father, a lobsterman, overhaul his gear and prepare for the first fishing expedition of the year.

Looking out her window on Christmas Eve, the author introduces the numbers from one to twelve as she spies birds and animals nestled in the boughs of an evergreen tree.

A gentle, world-traveling introduction to the different lives led by wild animals and their tame, human-assisting counterparts.
