unit infantry action during the war. He is very good at explaining the weaponry, tactics, and living conditions in the field." ---James E.

Westheider, author of The African-American Experience in Vietnam
In 1968 James T.

Gillam was a poorly focused college student at Ohio University who was dismissed and then hunted and killed the enemy in a series of intense firefights, some of them in close combat. In those months Gillam was shot twice and struck by shrapnel twice. He became a savage, strangling a soldier in hand-to-hand combat inside a lightless tunnel. As his mid-summer date to return home approached, Gillam
