When Stuart Shipp and his little sister Frenn were walking in the park, Frenn asked an important question because she was tired of being in the dark. 'Stuart,' Frenn said, 'I know I'm just a little tike, But I sure would like to know what God looks like.' When Stuart Shipp's sister asks him about God's looks, Stuart takes her on a walk from the park to the beach to the ocean shore, showing her all the beautiful things in God's creation that can help her answer the question What Does God Look Like?

When a little boy asks his mother about what God looks like and many other questions as well she answers him with lots of details. This story began when author Linda Wilson's three daughters were young. This story was written and illustrated in response to their questions and the questions of many other children through the years about God. Children yearn for the literal, touchable truth about all things, including the unseen God of the universe. Understanding that truth is quite a task for children in their formative years. Their eager and open minds deserve good answers to their good questions. What Does God Look Like? seeks to help each child know who God is and how much He loves and cares about each of them; relieve any fears or misconceptions about death and reveal a biblical, pleasant picture of heaven for them; and reinforce the teaching that God is not only our Lord and Savior but also our comforter, teacher, and everlasting Father. What Does God Look Like? encourages each child to see God's reflection in his or her face and to make an indelible impression on them that they are made in God's image.

This book was written one night after the author was given the title of the book by a true inspiration from God. He revealed to the author a secret held deep in her heart that God truly looks like the goodness of the creation He created. We think you will be inspired, young and old, with the words and photographs in this book.

God is everywhere. He's in the clear blue skies. He's in the sun and the snowflakes. He's in the words we say, and in our hearts, and when we pray. He's in the things we do all day. Written for author Kimberly Simmons' first grandchild, What Does God Look Like? explains the many places she sees God's gifts, especially in her children and grandchildren. A rhyming picture book for little ones, it offers a heartfelt expression of God's grace within everyday encounters.

Jesus Christ is arguably the most famous man who ever lived. His image adorns countless churches, icons, and paintings. He is the subject of millions of statues, sculptures, devotional objects and works of art. Everyone can conjure an image of Jesus: usually as a handsome, white man with flowing locks and pristine linen robes. But what did Jesus really look like? Is our popular image of Jesus overly westernized and untrue to historical reality? This question continues to fascinate. Leading Christian Origins scholar Joan E. Taylor surveys the historical evidence, and the prevalent image of Jesus in art and culture, to suggest an entirely different vision of this most famous of men. He may even have had short hair.

A gentle way for young children to see, touch and explore the ways in which people "see" God. Board book. Illustrations.

For half a century, J. I. Packer's classic has helped Christians around the world discover the wonder, the glory, and the joy of knowing God. Now featured in the IVP Signature Collection, this thought-provoking work seeks to renew and enrich our understanding of God, bringing together knowing about God and knowing God through a close relationship with Jesus Christ.

This anthology presents exciting ideas, images, and thoughts of scientists, theologians, thinkers, and writers dealing with questions of God, Life, and Death based on our present understanding of the expanding Universe. It proposes answers that are friendlier to our planet. Joanna Macy, Thomas Berry, Edgar Mitchell, Miriam MacGillis, John Seed, Brooke Medicine Eagle, Brian Swimme, Rosemary Ruether, and Matt Fox, etc., share thoughts on Where We Come From, Why We're Here, What Happens After Death.

"Children who are introduced to God, through attending church or having loved ones who speak often about God, often have a lot of questions, including this ever-popular one: What is God like? The late Rachel Held Evans loved the Bible and loved showing God's love through the words and pictures found in that ancient text. Through these pictures from the Bible, children see that God is like a shepherd, God is like a star, God is like a gardener, God is like the wind, and more. God is a comforter and support"--
